School House Destroyed by Incendiaries

Firebugs continued their attack on rural schools with the burning of the Gibsonton building, located along the river road between this city and Belle Vernon at an early hour this morning. Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad men were first to discover the flames and leaving their trains attempted to save the building from destruction, but finding this impossible, they turned their efforts towards the furnishings and were fortunate in saving the school books, tables and an organ. The building, a frame structure, one story high was completely destroyed.

The fiends had torn away a large part of the weather boarding and set fire to paper placed there. The flames quickly spread and the building was soon a mass of ashes.

When the railroad men appeared on the scene two men were seen running from the vicinity. The railroad men gave chase, but were unable to apprehend the suspects. The loss is placed at $5,000.

Saturday evening an unsuccessful attempt was made to burn the home of Alfred Montgomery, about a mile and a half east of Fayette City. The fire was discovered at about ten o'clock, by two young men who were callers at the home. Smelling smoke they started to investigate and discovered that miscreants had poured oil over the kitchen of the home and set it afire. Water was secured and the flames extinguished with but little damage.

Suspects Escape

(By United Press)

Pittsburgh, Nov. 23.—Two suspects believed by police to be implicated in the $5,000 robbery of the Penn Avenue branch of the Metropolitan National bank made their escape from two officers. The two men were arrested after the police identified a car in which they were seated as being the one used in the robbery yesterday. When searched both men carried revolvers and when the officers explained to the suspects that they were under arrest both broke away and fled, with the police in pursuit. The abandoned car bore Ohio license plate No. 529,122, and under the seat a Pennsylvania license plate No. 282 891, was discovered.

Hear Complaints

Harrisburg, Nov. 23.—Complaints against the proposed change in standard of measuring artificial gas for consumption in Eastern Pennsylvania furnished by the Pennsylvania Gas Association were heard in the commission room today.

The Pennsylvania Gas Association has applied for the new standard expressed in B. T. U. so as to economise on the use of its gas supply. The standard was set several years ago by the commission and the protestants allege there is no occasion for change now which would mean virtual increase in rates for gas service.

The association represents nearly all companies engaged in the manufacture of artificial gas in the state.

52 Fatal Accidents

Harrisburg, Nov. 23.—Westmoreland county industrial workers were victims of 52 fatal accidents during the first nine months of this year, according to figures announced by Dr. Clifford B. Connelley, Commissioner of the Department of Labor and Industry. The report was compiled by the Bureau of Inspection. During October, 7 fatalities were reported to the state authorities from that county.

Throughout the state there were 1940 fatal accidents from January 1 to November 1. Seven hundred and seventy-five of them were suffered by miners, 735 by persons employed in industrial plants and 432 by public service workers. The state's fatality roll reached 188 in October, according to the reports received by the Department of Labor and Industry.

Becoming Civilized

(By United Press)

Chicago, Rickshaws and coolies are rapidly being replaced by limousines and liveried chauffeurs in India. Industrial growth of the country in the last five years has brought about a remarkable transformation in most of the commercial centers, according to information to Chicago industrial bureaus.

Dance Tomorrow

The young ladies of the Auxiliary of the A. O. H. have completed preparations for their informal dance to be held in the Croatian hall tomorrow night. Conti's orchestra will furnish music and dancing will be enjoyed from 8:30 to 12. The patronesses for the affair include Mrs. Stephen Helzlsouer, Mrs. P. H. Gaughen, Mrs. Thomas Phalen, Mrs. William Braden, Mrs. John Eckman, Mrs. James McShane, Mrs. William Bonnett, Mrs. Jerry McKenzie, Mrs. J. C. White, Mrs. George Engle and J. C. White, Mrs. George Engle, Mrs. John Stevenson and Mrs. Thomas Fallon.

Fowls Plentiful Here

Cy Smith, proprietor of Monessen Poultry store, is ready for the Thanksgiving trade. Yesterday he received the first big consignment of poultry, when trucks unloaded at his place 7,000 pounds of live birds, consisting of turkeys, ducks, geese, chickens, guineas, squabs, rabbits and almost everything in the fowl family. Today another similar shipment will arrive. Mr. Smith expects to handle 3,000 birds, which in all likelihood will be the largest number ever handled by one dealer in the history of the town.

The services of extra help has been secured and poultry will be dressed to order. Dozens of people stopped in at the place today and looked upon as fine a collection of poultry as could be found anywhere. Every bird seemed in good, healthy condition and Mr. Smith was justly proud of his collection.

Shopping Early

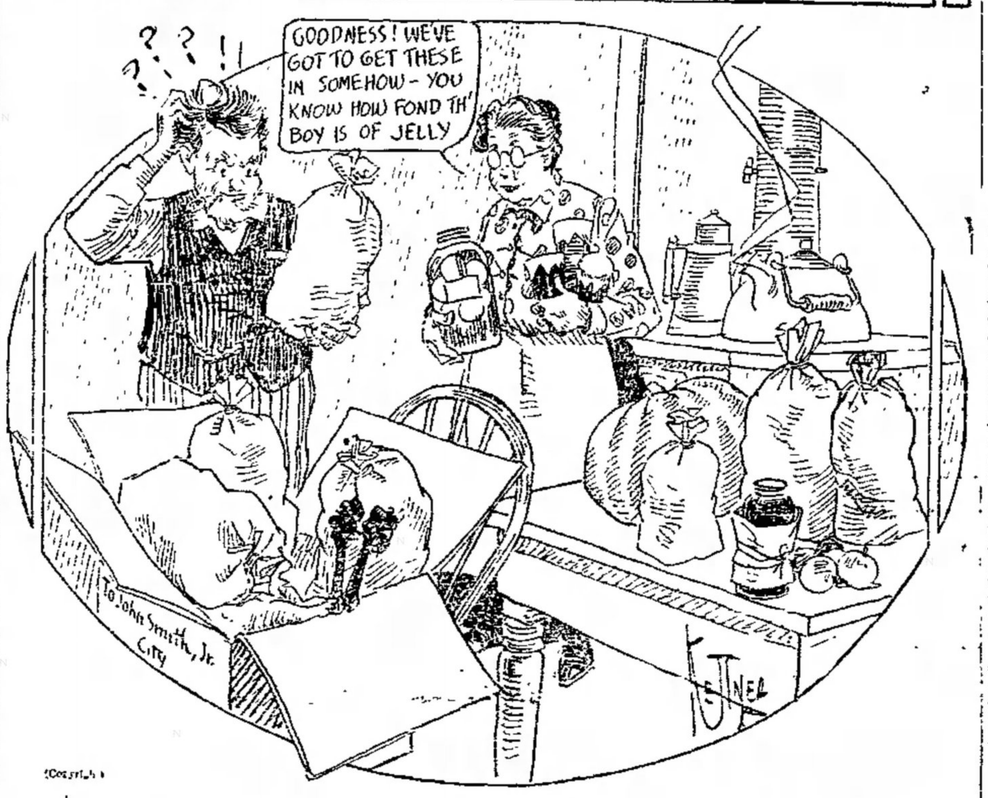
That the local community is to be encouraged to do its Christmas shopping early is indicated by the considerable extent to which Christmas stocks already have been placed on exhibition in a number of the local stores. Christmas is still five weeks away but already there is a distinct Christmassy air in a number of the stores, with Christmas cards, toys, etc., on exhibition and the indications are that within another week the Christmas shopping season will be in full swing in Monessen, the merchants will continue to receive Christmas merchandise via express and parcel post, right up to the very last day.

Editors Hold Meeting

(By United Press)

Harrisburg, Nov. 23.—The executive committee of the Pennsylvania Dailies Association, an organization of newspaper publishers, meeting here today, discussed with newspapermen over the entire state the many problems affecting publishers at this time. Among the reconstruction questions considered, were the newsprint situation and the increased express rates approved by the I. C. C. recently, adding to the worries of a present day publisher.

Hearts Larger Than Boxes



CLYDE B. MARTIN'S BARN WITH CATTLE, HORSES AND GRAIN DESTROYED BY FIRE

The big frame barn on the Clyde B. Martin farm, east of town, on the West Newton-Belle Vernon road, was completely destroyed by fire at 5 o'clock this morning, together with practically all of its contents, including cows, horses, chickens, farm machinery, hay and grain.

At 4:30 o'clock the Martin family was aroused by noise in the stables and looking out the window they discovered the barn was on fire and that the flames had gained destructive headway. Mr. Martin and other members of the family rushed to the stable in the hope of saving the live stock, but they only succeeded in saving three horses. The building was then about ready to collapse.

Fifteen cows, two calves, four work horses, one colt and a number of chickens perished in the building. It is believed the building was burned to the ground in thirty minutes after the fire was started.

The Monessen Volunteer Fire Department was called at 5 o'clock, but when it arrived the barn was already destroyed and efforts of the firemen were directed to saving adjoining buildings and they saved everything but a small corn crib. The hog pen and tool house, the latter containing considerable grain, were saved through the use of chemicals.

The barn was probably among the best in Westmoreland county and was modern in every way. It had been equipped with up to date appliances for dairy purposes. It was about 100x100 feet with slate roof, silos, large granaries and built of extra heavy timbers. Both mows were filled to the roof with hay and much of the harvest of this year was stored in the building which, together with farm machinery, was entirely destroyed.

Considering the present day building costs and the high price of grain and live stock, the fire loss will be in the neighborhood of $20,000.00, which is only partially covered by insurance.

There is no evidence other than that the barn was set on fire by some malicious person. The fire started to originate in the corner of the loft [illegible]

Many Students Work

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 23.—The report of the Harvard University students employment bureau shows that Harvard men earning or helping to earn the money to pay their way through college, are working as carpenters, clerks, reporters, waiters, lumberjacks, monitors, preachers, night watchmen, chauffeurs, tutors, salesmen, librarians, waiters and stereotypers.

The employment bureau has made public its report for the year when Harvard men who secured positions through the bureau earned $877,000, an increase of $150,000 over the previous year. The total amount earned by the students securing employment through the bureau and [illegible] who found positions from other sources was estimated at $1,050,000.

Applications for positions this year have shown a marked increase. This is attributed in part to the effects of the war and its loss in [illegible] the value of education

Sinn Feiners Are Killed By Soldiers

(By United Press)

Cork, Nov. 23.—Two Sinn Feiners were shot and one policeman seriously wounded in clashes at Mills-street, county Cork, last night. There were numerous skirmishes between black and tan patrols and the Sinn Feiners.

Dublin, Nov. 23.—(11:40 A. M.)—Frequent encounters between troops and small bands of Sinn Feiners occurred in the streets of Dublin during the night. The sound of shooting was incessant. So far as known however, there were only two casualties. Military raids were being conducted throughout the city this morning. Many arrests were made.

Dublin was virtually cut off from the world today by a cordon of British troops. Somewhere within the city 200 Sinn Fein gunmen who assassinated 14 British officers were in hiding. The troops were surrounding the city while police systematically searched it for the gunmen.

Meanwhile, the city lived in awful dread. Renewed large scale fighting between Sinn Feiners and police was expected at any moment. Shops had their shutters up. Thousands of people remained indoors, peeping cautiously out from behind drawn curtains when military patrols paced down the streets.

A checkup of the casualties in the Sunday shootings today showed a total of 27 identified dead, 14 officers and police, and 13 slain at the Croke Park football field where black and tans fought Sinn Feiners, the police bullets flying into the crowd. The hospital records showed nearly 100 persons had received surgical attention.

The Dublin city hall and several of the city's hotels were occupied by troops today, and the town was rapidly assuming the appearance of a city in the war zone during the fighting in France. Tanks and military automobiles rumbled through the streets. Sentries with fixed bayonets paced up and down at strategic points. Hotel corridors and the lobby of the city hall were crowded with men in uniform, while couriers hastened here and there with messages. There were groups of troops, rifles held ready, in front of many houses which were being searched for Sinn Fein gunmen, and some crodons at each corner.

Held For Death

(By United Press)

Erie, Pa., Nov. 23.—A coroner's jury composed of women today rendered a verdict that Martin C. Cornell, City Solicitor, be held for the death of William Schultz, a traction employee who was killed while at work on the streets last week.

Schultz and a companion were repairing the streets when a speeding autoist disregarding the danger signal ploughed into them, almost instantly killing Schultz and seriously injuring the other workman. Cornell was later arrested on suspicion and it was claimed he was the driver of the auto.

Fashion Plates Vanish

London, Nov. 22.—The white-spatted and monocled man who yesterday gave color and excitement to the West End of London has vanished.

There is an air of languor in the quiet grays and chaste browns of the suits worn by London's young men today. Mostly coats wrinkle and trousers sag. Handkerchiefs and socks, once so passionately lurid have sunk into somnolent shades. The erstwhile dazzle dude is now but a blur on the landscape—but only during the day.

At night the dull chrysalis turns into a brilliant butterfly. Inquiries made at the best known London hosiers elicited the information that while the bright hued handkerchiefs socks and ties are a drug on the market, it is exactly the reverse in the matter of pajamas.

The more brilliant the pajamas the jazzier the sale and hosiers find it difficult to keep pace with the violence of hue demanded in masculine night attire.

The white day shats are forgotten in the hectic quest for purple bed-socks.

Trooper Discharged

Harrisburg, Nov. 22.—Maj. Lynn G. Adams, superintendent of the state police, announced the discharge of Private Frances Davis of the Greensburg troop, pending an examination as to his sanity. Davis having confessed to starting nine fires, seven of them at a hotel in Indiana, where he was quartered and two at the police training barracks at Newcastle. He confessed to Maj. C. J. Wiesinger, chief of the Fire Prevention Bureau, that he started the fires as a pastime to help the excitement.

Davis came to the state police on July after serving as a sergeant in the Army. He saw service on the Mexican border, and as a second lieutenant of Philippine scouts. Maj. Adams said he had an excellent Army record.

Shot By Woman

(By United Press)

Ardmore, Okla., Nov. 23.—A search extending from Oklahoma to California was instituted today for Mrs. Clara Hamon of Ringling, Okla., charged with shooting Jake Harmon, millionaire oil king and National Republican Committeeman. Mrs. Clara Hamon, who was Clara Smith before her marriage, is a relative of the oil king. She is charged with shooting him in a hotel here Sunday night and then mysteriously disappearing. Her baggage was checked to Kansas City, but she failed to take the train as scheduled. A warrant has also been issued charging Harmon with a statutory offense.

Actress Had Large Wardrobe

New York, Nov 22—Film fans screen favorites and dealers crowded the auction rooms of Samuel Marx this afternoon and bid for jewels furs wearing apparel and automobiles belonging to Olive Thomas, who died in Paris a few months ago. Nearly $20,000 was realized from the sale of the jewelry, and one of her two automobiles were sold for $5,000. The entire proceeds of the sale were about $30,000, according to Marx.

Several of Miss Thomas' business associates and friends were present, and in many of their bids there was an indication that the particular article had a sentimental value to them. Before the sale Lewis J Selznick, the producer who featured Miss Thomas, privately purchased a large touring automobile at a price which was not disclosed.

A group of film favorites among them Mabel Normand the Talmadge sisters and Thomas Meighan came trooping forward with the usual crowd of dealers who attend auctions.

There was spirited bidding for a green gold cigaret case with a watch on one end and inscribed "To the only sweetheart I ever had" which was said to have been given to Miss Thomas by Jack Pickford her husband. It finally went for $650 to a woman going by the name of Mrs Fish, "a society woman" one of the auction men confided to the newspapermen present.

Mabel Normand said to be a close friend of Miss Thomas outbid a number of others for possession of a 20 piece diamond garter set. With the garter a cost Miss Normand $1.42" with a picture of Jack Pickford.

Miss Simms paid $680 for an emerald and diamond ring. A pearl necklace containing 400 pearls and 35 were sold for $840 to a dealer. Another diamond ring [illegible] brought $3,050.

REPUBLICAN IN POLITICS

THE BEST MARKET

That things do not always pan out as expected was never more strikingly illustrated than in the fact that America, instead of feeding the world, is being fed by the world. There was a lot of talk last year, when Americans looked on starving and exhausted Europe, about "America feeding the world." It was assumed that the enormous wheat crop, and the other crops of cereals and foodstuffs to be raised in America this summer would pour across the waters in a mighty stream to help feed these starving populations.

But, as pointed out by one of the best known New York stock exchange firms in its weekly analsys, it is found that, so far from feeding the world the hungry world is pouring foodstuffs into America! During the seven months of this year ended with July, imports of foodstuffs into the United States increased by more than $1,500,000,000 over the corresponding period of 1919, while exports of foodstuffs declined about $500,000,000. To put the case in another way, the imports of foodstuffs during these seven months amounted to $2,157,090,935, while exports of foodstuffs were only $1,168,094,700. The world sent the United States a billion dollars' worth of foodstuffs more than the United States sent abroad. For the month of July the importations of food reached a total of $232,000,000, while the experts were only $176,000,000.

The reason? It is not far to seek. Americans have had an enormous purchasing power; the people of impoverished Europe none. Exports and imports move in response to economic laws; not sentiment. The best market now is America. People with money get the goods. That may seem hard, but its true. And so the world witnesses the spectacle of America with plenty of food, yet buying more.

THE UNSOCIAL CHILD

Although children suffer a natural degree of shyness and a certain timidity during the formation of an acquaintanceship, it is usual for them to adjust their relations with other children for themselves.

When the natural desire of children for social intercourse is not encouraged or is undeveloped other children will tease them and torment them, if allowed to do so, or will have nothing to do with them.

If a child is able to assert his rights he is taken into the fold by common consent and becomes a part of the flock. If, however, he is not encouraged to overcome shyness and timidity, and to assert himself these faulty traits of character become more marked.

The child becomes seclusive largely because of the greater opportunity afforded him to weave fancies about his insufferable lot.

Later in life the habit of introspection thus formed serves as a mental pitfall.

The wise teacher should note seclusiveness in children and the tendency of other children to leave them to this fate. If the true meaning of this is not understood, and if thru sympathy she makes the mistake of encouraging a child by adopting him at is were, as her protege, the child soon looks upon the teacher as a substitute and clings to her as a protector and the tendency to indulge in reflections over his supposed wrongs is encouraged. Dependence in this respect will increase with advancing age until it becomes a fixed habit of infantile tendencies.

H. F. Craig, in Monessen, is authorized by the manufacturers of SIM-CO SALVE to guarantee it to quickly relieve or money back; that's fair enough, isn't it?

There are other remedies, of course, but what remedy compares with SIM-CO SALVE, antiseptic, soothing and healing application, which, at the same time it is applied to the throat and chest, gives off germ killing vapors that reach directly the inside of the lungs as well as penetrating through the skin from the outside?

The best way to realize the supreme efficiency of SIM-CO SALVE for these ailments is to compare it with any other remedy in the world, at any price, and if you are not delighted with the results of using SIM-CO SALVE according to directions, Craig's Drug store will give you your money back.

You can use SIM-CO SALVE with a real pleasure; even children enjoy the soothing chest applications with the refreshing vapor they give off, and relief comes so quickly that it seems like magic; it works while they sleep and makes the little ones less liable to attack of a more serious germ disease. It don't spill, yet it is soft and pliable and is of proven value for sprains, sore muscles, rheumatism, neuralgia, stiff joints, stiff neck and similar afflictions, and will not soil the skin. 30c, 60c and $1.00 per jar. WHAT WILL YOU DO ABOUT THESE FACTS?

Tuberculosis is taking a terrible toll in Pennsylvania every day. What are you going to do about these facts:

In 1919, 10,273 persons were killed in Pennsylvania by tuberculosis—a preventable disease.

That means 28 persons succumbed to the White Plague every day, or one an hour.

For every death from tuberculosis in your community there are from 10 to 15 living cases.

In the schools of Pennsylvania 75 per cent to 80 per cent of all the children have physical defects.

Five per cent, or 58,770, of all the school children in Pennsylvania have tuberculosis.

In Addressing the Stranger.

Every locality in America has more or less definitely defined nicknames the residents call strangers when addressing them. In Philadelphia, for instance, strangers are addressed as "Mack." A Philadelphian wishing to ask the time from some one he didn't know would say: "What time is it, Mack?"

Out in Seattle the common name for a stranger is "Bo." This is probably due to the influence of the I. W. W. Lumber jacks, mine workers and "blanket stiffs" all go by the familiar name of "Bo." The extensive use of this term has gradually been adopted by the more polite strata of society in that section, and is now considered good form.

In Denver they have the breezy western "Bill." In Chicago it is "Chuck" or the new "Buddy." In Connecticut it is "Colonel," of course. In Boston it is "Neighbor," while in New York one Broadwayite insists it is "Boy."

WATCH THAT COLD!

The Lungs are Endangered until you Expel it

Head colds are not the trivial ailments many consider them. The passages in the nostrils lead down into the lungs; hence the cold is a threat of pneumonia. Influenza or catarrh also may result from neglect.

Krew-Pina, the famous household ointment, affords prompt relief in all cases of cold. It is scientifically compounded entirely of simple home remedies, including Oil of Pine and other volatile oils, in a petroleum base—absolutely harmless, but powerful in its action both through the pores of the skin and directly on the inflamed membranes by vapor contact.

Rub well in on the throat and chest, and apply in the nostrils. Draw the bed clothes up about the nose and inhale the medicinal vapors the heat of the body causes the ointment to give off. Repeat nightly until relieved.

Krew-Pina should be kept on hand for relief in cases of bronchitis, croup, piles, coughs, neuralgia, burns, cuts, bruises and many other common ailments. 30c and 60c jars with printed directions—at your druggist's.

Free Sample OF Krew-Pina

WILL BE SENT TO ANY ADDRESS ON REQUEST.

THE KREW-PINA CO., INC.
WAYNESBURG, PA.

Just what the picture on it this year signifies. The salutation of the child and Santa—"Happy New Year"—is borne out through the work done with the money realized from the sale of Tuberculosis Christmas Seals.

"The Tuberculosis committee covering a community retains over three-fourths of the money it realizes from the Seal sale for carrying on the fight against tuberculosis and the improvement of the public health," said Gifford Pinchot, chairman of the Seal Seal Committee. "One of the important things being done by these committees is the health work among children, and especially in the schools.

"If we teach children better habits and hygiene they will grow up much healthier and tuberculosis will be materially lessened.

"Every Christmas Seal used means better health for children of your community."

MANY TO OBSERVE TUBERCULOSIS DAY

Addresses December 3 in the Schools and Sermons December 5 in Churches.

Harrisburg, Pa. — Tuberculosis Day in the schools on December 3 and Tuberculosis Day in the churches on December 5 will be generally observed throughout Pennsylvania. These days are in connection with the 1920 sale of Christmas Seals and Health Bonds, the formal sale of which begins November 29. The same days will be observed in other states.

In the schools teachers, principals, physicians and laymen will give talks on the nature and treatment of tuberculosis and how to prevent the disease. In some places it will be made the occasion for the distribution of Seals to school children to take to their families or to sell. In the churches on December 5 many pastors will devote all or part of a sermon to the question of health and particularly tuberculosis. In many Sunday schools a little time will likewise be given to presenting this subject. In some churches and Sunday Schools laymen and physicians will speak in addition to pastors and superintendents.

Gifford Pinchot, State Commissioner of Forestry, who is Chairman of the State Christmas Seal Sale Committee, made this statement:

Many states, in connection with the 1920 sale of tuberculosis Christmas Seals and Health Bonds, will observe Friday, December 3, as tuberculosis day in the schools, and Sunday, December 5, as tuberculosis day in the churches. I should like to see Pennsylvania's schools and churches use these days for emphasizing the fact that the White Plague is still a serious menace.

The steady drop in the death rate from tuberculosis in Pennsylvania (from 1502 per 100,000 population in 1908 to 117 in 1919) appears to be a direct tribute to the progress made in bringing to the public the fact that tuberculosis is a preventable disease. STATE SEAL COMMITTEE

The Christmas Seal Sale Committee for Pennsylvania is composed of eighteen of the most prominent men and women of the state. They are:

Governor William C. Sproul, Honorary Chairman; Gifford Pinchot, Chairman; C. M. Schwab, Bethlehem; David J. Davis, Scranton; Rabbi Max C. Currick, Erie; E. J. Stackpole, Harrisburg; Bishop M. J. Hoban, Scranton; Dr. O. K. Kirsch, Norristown; Mrs. Frederick Schoff, Philadelphia; S. Y. Ramage, Oil City; John A. McSparran, Furniss; W. Freeland Kendrick, Philadelphia; James H. HEALTH CRUSADE IN SCHOOLS BIG HELP TO CHILDREN

The Modern Health Crusade, a system of practical health instruction which is being carried on in the schools of Pennsylvania by tuberculosis committees, is doing much to make healthier children in Pennsylvania. Many teachers quickly see a great improvement in the children as and a record and system of credits after last start along the simple health rules under the Crusade.

Last year there were over two hundred thousand children in the schools enrolled in the Crusade. An even larger number are enrolled this year.

The Crusade is promoted largely through Christmas Seals.

CHRISTMAS SEALS

BIG CONVENTIONS ENDORSE SALE OF SEALS AND BONDS

The work of the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society and its local branches, together with the Christmas Seal Sale, which is the chief source of funds for these organizations, has been endorsed by a number of organizations in their state conventions. Some of the resolutions follow:

The American Legion.

The American Legion of Pennsylvania in cantonment at Allentown, June 18, 1920, notes with great satisfaction that, with 10,253 deaths in Pennsylvania in 1919 from all forms of tuberculosis, which number is 2622 less than in 1918, progress is being made in the fight against tuberculosis; therefore,

Be it resolved, That the Legion commend its members for their very active part in the Christmas Seal Sale last year; and,

Be it further resolved, That we reaffirm our commendation of the work of the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society and its affiliated local organizations, and suggest that Legion members, as far as possible, aid in the 1920 Seal Sale through which most of the money will be raised for next year's citizen fight against this white scourge.

The P. O. S. of A.

Declaring its belief that next to patriotism the public health is one of the most vital factors in the life of the American people, the Patriotic Order Sons of America, in their Pennsylvania convention in Harrisburg, August 26, 1920, commends the work of the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society and urges its full support by members of this organization. Although tuberculosis took 2549 fewer lives in Pennsylvania in 1919 than in 1918 (the total number of deaths from the White Plague being 10,253), there is still an urgent need that a greater effort be made to lessen the ravages of the White Plague; therefore,

Be it resolved, That the Pennsylvania Patriotic Order Sons of America urges generous support of the Christmas Seal Sale of 1920, through which most of the money is raised for the citizen fight against tuberculosis.

The State Firemen.

Our duties to our communities as firemen is to extinguish fires and save persons imperiled by them. A human conflagration that consumes more than 10,000 lives annually in Pennsylvania has been checked only slightly after many years' fight and this sweep of tuberculosis, a preventable disease, causes a flame of suffering, misery and death that touches nearly every family and most persons; therefore,

Be it resolved, That the Firemen's Association of Pennsylvania in 1920 convention at Allentown, commends those agencies fighting tuberculosis and especially the efforts of the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society and its affiliated local organizations toward prevention; therefore,

Be it further resolved, That we commend our members for their support of the 1919 Christmas Seal Sale and urge their assistance in this fall's Seal Sale as one of the best ways to support the citizen fight against this preventable scourge.

Federation of Women.

As newly enfranchised citizens of Pennsylvania we recognize the vital importance of the health of our children as touching the well-being of the coming generation. The recent revelation that there are at least 88,750 children in the schools of Pennsylvania with tuberculosis is cause for pause and action. No greater work to lessen tuberculosis can be done than that among children; therefore,

Be it resolved by the Federation of Pennsylvania Women in annual session at Harrisburg, October 14, 1920, that we heartily commend the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society and its affiliated local committees for their emphasis in the past few years upon health work in the schools, which finds chief expression in the Modern Health Crusade; therefore,

Be it further Resolved, That we most strongly urge our members and all citizens to give the greatest possible support to the 1920 Sale of Christmas Seals and Health Bonds, which provide most of the money for the recognized citizen organizations which are fighting tuberculosis in co-operation with official state agencies.

STATE CONGRESS OF PARENT-TEACHERS

We have observed the successful operation of the Modern Health Crusade in the schools of Pennsylvania and have noted with great satisfaction the improvement in the physical condition and health habits of children enrolled in the Crusade. We recognize the fact that Seals from which these children receive aid are responsible for the health campaign and we consider this health campaign to be a vital factor in the public health movement.

Be it therefore resolved by the Pennsylvania Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations in session at Williamsport, Pa., November 4, 1920, that we endorse and approve the sale of the Modern Health Crusade and that we urge the continuance of the Crusade in the health programs of the State Department of Public Instruction and the Department of Health; be it further resolved, That we give our hearty support to the Modern Health Crusade and to the sale of Christmas Seals and Health Bonds.

LONG LOST ROMAN CARVING

Story of the Rediscovery of a Lost Treasure, Now in British Museum.

A remarkably beautiful specimen of Roman sepulchral carving has just been added to the British museum through the generosity of Ernest Dixon. The story of the rediscovery of this treasure is romantic. Mr. Dixon acquired it from a contractor in London, in whose yard it had been lying for some fifty years. He placed his purchase so as to form the central feature of a rock garden in Putney, but afterward struck by its unusual beauty, brought it to the notice of the British museum authorities, who identified it as a genuine and long lost antique, says the Boston Transcript. The sculpture is a marble relief, over five feet long by nearly two feet wide. It shows three draped busts set in a deeply recessed panel. It was a monument to Lucius Ampudius Philomusus, and the busts depict himself his wife and his daughter. The relief is not a part of a sarcophagus, but is a slab built originally into the wall of a tomb. Its date is probably between B. C. 23 and A. D. 25.

The sculpture is first mentioned by Bianchini of Verona, who was copying Roman inscriptions between 1706 and 1715. It had been excavated probably about 1700, near the Porta Capena and was taken to the Villa Casali. Seen and noted on more than one occasion during the eighteenth century, the last copyist to mention it was George Zoega, who was established at Rome between 1784 and 1809. After this the relief became lost to the world. It was perhaps shipped home by some traveling Englishman, who placed it in his house or garden in the St. John's wood region, and thence it found its way to the contractor's yard from which it has now been rescued.

FAVORED CLASS IN RUSSIA

Only Actresses Are Permitted by Government to Wear Shoes and Finery.

There is only one favored class in Russia today, according to a Paris correspondent. Strangely enough, this class is composed entirely of women. They are the theatrical stars and beauties. They alone are permitted the wearing of rich garments and the possession of jewels. The Russians have always been passionate lovers of the theater, and, even under the present regime they treat their stage favorites as so many reigning queens.

Incidentally, the actresses are the only women in Russia today who are permitted to wear shoes during warm weather. The peasant women of Russia always went barefoot during the summer months. Hence Russians regard bare feet as the distinguishing mark of the woman of the people. Any woman who affects to wear shoes in Russia nowadays unless she be a favorite of the footlights, is regarded as a daughter of the despised "bourgeoisie." She is considered a fair target for insult and persecution. Even the wives of soviet dignitaries, such as Trotzky and Lenin, have been obliged to bow to popular sentiment. They may be seen any day in Moscow tripping through the streets barefoot.
